Molotov Reported In Accord With Conference Plans

Most Attention Goes To Russians, Says Mrs. Early

Editor's Note: More of her impressions of the big San Francisco Conference of the United Nations came Thursday from the Ocean Beach News own representative, Mrs. C. W. Early, in which she emphasizes that the Russians in general and Molotov in particular really are features of the Conference. She writes the editor, "I have not attempted to tell what the speakers at the Conference said since the daily papers will carry that—I am just giving my personal views of the meetings, which are plenty fine." Mrs. Early attended the Conference the first three days of this week. She was scheduled to leave Thursday for home. Her news letter follows:

San Francisco greeted the official news of War's end in Europe with unspoken determination to finish the job remaining—complete destruction of Japan—while delegates from 48 United Nations—now including Ukraine and White Russia, continued the task of framing a world security charter after a weekend rest. Among the first to appear Monday was Trygve Lie, minister of foreign affairs of Norway and chairman of the Norwegian delegation, who spoke briefly and told of his sincere regret to leave the Conference to return to the Norwegian government in London due to urgent matters pertaining to the liberation of Norway. Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov, who had been reported as planning to leave this week, announced that he would hold a press conference in the St. Francis hotel at 2:15. Men and women of the press hurried over to get a few questions in on the Polish situation which seems to hold the spotlight here this week. Accompanying the Commissar to the press room were six members of the Russian delegation who sat on the narrow rostrum lined with photographers and tried to get from under the streaming bright lights of the cameramen. It was somewhat unfortunate to hear many of the unnecessary questions directed at the visiting diplomat which hurried the delegation to complete the conference. Molotov, however did not fail to give the complete impression that he is in accord with the plans of the conference—this was done in an extreme shrewd manner as he read a prepared talk in his native tongue interpreted by a thin voice of one of the delegates.

We of the press then went to the Labor Temple to hear the president of the American Federation of Labor, William Green, in a special press conference, outlining a statement adopted by the A. F. of L. Executive Council and tell of his special visit to the San Francisco Conference for amending the Dumbarton Oaks Proposals.

All activities of the Conference ceased for one minute at 11 a. m. while all in the conference joined in silent meditation to pay homage to the heroic men living and dead—who have broken the evil power of the European enemy on the field of battle.

Following a turkey dinner served in the basement of the Opera house by the women of the volunteer service of the city, the long grey busses furnished by the Navy were again filled by press representatives rushing to the press conference of the American delegation presided over by Commander Harold Stassen and his co-workers Congressman Sol Bloom of New York and the shaggy haired statesman from Texas, Sen. Connally, all official Conference delegates in order to be able to have a look at this meeting and to even half way comfortable in the smoked filea room and after all seats were taken nearly 100 press men and women from all over the world sat in strange positions on the thick blue Persian rugs flipping ashes from borrowed cigarettes in community ash trays. We heard Commander Stassen discuss the plans of the United Nations Trusteeship and say that the official delegates from all nations were nearer a complete accord than at any time since the Conference opening.

May I say that Mr. Molotov is

President Calls On Sunday To Be A Day Of Prayer

President Truman by proclamation issued at Washington Tuesday, V-E Day, has "appointed Sunday, May 13, to be a day of prayer." He proclaims, "I call upon the people of the United States, whatever their faith, to unite in offering joyful thanks to God for the victory we have won and to pray that He will support us to the end of our present struggle and guide us into the way of peace. I also call upon my countrymen to dedicate this day of prayer to the memory of those who have given their lives to make possible our victory."

In conformance with the president's proclamation the Ocean Beach churches are planning a special prayer in connection with their services the coming Sunday.

Several of the pastors opened their churches on V-E Day to local worshippers for prayer and Thanksgiving.

The churches also plan to recognize Mother's Day, on Sunday, with special services in honor of motherhood.

Architect Begins Work On Plans For Church Addition

Ocean Beach Baptist church has employed an architect and he has already begun work on plans for a large addition to the church edifice. Rev. P. O. Jensen, pastor, announced this week. Discussion of the improvement was heard at the meeting of the trustees of the church, held Monday evening.

As plans are formulated to date the idea is to have constructed an annex that will provide eight additional classrooms for the Sunday School, and that the addition will be constructed on the Santa Monica side of the present edifice.

Increase in Sunday School attendance has made the extra room necessary, Rev. Jensen indicated. Construction is planned soon as the necessary priorities and materials are available. "We have a substantial sum in a special fund for the purpose," Rev. Jensen stated Tuesday, "in fact, enough to start the building were it possible to do so at this time." This fund is being added to each third Sunday by a special collection taken at the church services for that purpose, he said.

Growth of the Baptist church was brought out in the annual Baptist association meeting, which was held this year on May 11 in the new Linda Vista Baptist church. Rev. Jensen reported at that meeting that his church has during the past year received 31 additional members by baptism, 70 by letter and 14 otherwise. He also reported that the church had given $1700 for benevolences during the same 12 months. The association will meet next at the Ocean Beach Baptist church the first Tuesday in May next year.

Methodist Church To Honor Mothers

Point Loma Methodist church will observe Mother's Day with special music by Myrl King, Mus. 2/e, USNR, announces Rev. J. P. Roberts, the pastor. King will play a trumpet solo. The choir also will sing and the pastor will preach on the subject, "Will Mother Return Home?"

"Special attention will be given to the Day of Prayer as proclaimed by President Truman, and everyone especially those who have loved ones in the military service are cordially invited to attend," says the pastor.

Rev. Roberts also announces that the "newly organized Young Adult Fellowship will attend the Family Institute general session at the Roosevelt Junior high school tonight (Friday). The speaker will be Dr. E. E. Eitzen, associate professor of psychotherapy and counseling at U. S. C. Those desiring to go please phone Arthur Roshon, B-5486."

very wise—and the American press did not catch him off guard. He is also a nice looking gentleman and did not keep them waiting, as seems to be the custom of most of the diplomats for a press conference. The Russians continue to be the featured delegation of the entire conference with everyone waiting to catch a glimpse of any of them

Calm Observance Of V E Day Held In Ocean Beach

Iverson Floor Show Features U.S.O. Program

A 24-hour program of activity by the USO on Newport Ave. featured the observance in Ocean Beach business district of V E Day Tuesday. The day here was one of calm rejoicing rather than boisterous celebration. Generally the reaction of the citizens to the surrender of Germany was much like that in Washington, D. C., where the Navy's reaction was announced to be "That's fine—now let's get on with the war."

Ocean Beach folks on the business streets went about their business much the same as usual, in fact the business district was noticeably more quiet than usual due to the fact that many of the stores, the liquor establishments and other places of business were closed for the day. For the most part only the food stores, the bank and the postoffice remained open all day.

The USO committee headed by Lloyd Greeson, chairman, kept "Open House" at the Newport Ave. clubrooms open from time of the official announcement in Washington by President Truman of V E Day at 6 a. m. Tuesday until the same hour the next morning. Under arrangements made by Mrs. E. F. Bitzer and Mrs. Roy Milton of the committee the senior hostesses were kept on duty the entire 24 hours, on three-hour shifts each. They kept coffee and other refreshments on tap for the servicemen the entire time.

Floor Show A Feature

Highlighting the USO "Open House" was a floor show given Tuesday evening by Miss Lucille Iverson and her troupe of 19 dancers, one of the most outstanding performances of its kind that has been given in Ocean Beach, according to the many who were privileged to see it. The program began with community singing.

Miss Iverson put on the "Starlet Vanities," under sponsorship of the San Diego USO Council. Nannette Bailey officiated as mistress of ceremonies. Solo dancers were Miss Iverson, Colleen Murphy, Janie Cushing, Judy Ann Hennessy, with Eleanor Coda as vocalist. Line dancers were Mary Helen Parkes, Betty Smilie, Donna Ockermann, June Blackett, Charlotte Hively and Jeanne Spaulding, with Helen Bayless as accompanist.

Mrs. Pitcock Gets Letter Of Praise

Dear Mrs. Pitcock: It has been a long time since I wrote you and I think it is about time I was sending you a "thank you" note.

"Thank you" does not in any way fill the bill, for it gives no real idea of how much the servicemen do appreciate the many fine things that you and your Red Cross group do for them. Take, as example, the birthday cake project. You really started that and mothered it until it got established. Now there are a number of groups who bake regularly each week and decorate such lovely cakes for the boys' birthdays. Now and then a really young boy—so many are so young now—with tears brimming in his eyes, will tell the nurse he has never had a birthday cake before.

Then there was that nice boy who had a cake, went home and told about it and the Junior Chamber of Commerce from his home town wrote to ask if they could not provide small gifts to go with the cakes. There are lots of fine people in this world.

Did you hear about that seriously injured boy who had been dreading his 21st birthday? He received a very fine citation in the forenoon and a birthday cake with candles in the afternoon, with the boys in the ward all singing "Happy Birthday To You." Said he, "This is a birthday to remember all my life, for I've had neither a decoration nor a birthday cake before."

So, you see, all your hard work does count. Thanks for the lamps, the card tables, the china for the Waves, and do tell your fine group to keep on working. For the need is very great.

Very truly yours,

Mrs. Albert Jones, Vice Ch.

Prisoner Of Japs Gets Word Through By Radio And Wire

Staff Sgt. Charles Peterson of Ocean Beach, prisoner of the Japs at Osaka prison camp in Japan, this week got word through to his mother, Mrs. Charles A. Peterson of 5069 Long Branch Ave. She reports that the following enemy short wave broadcast from the Japanese government was intercepted:

"Dear Mother. I have written you several times and hope that you received my letters. My health is fine and am feeling good. Tell Jack, Dad hello. Best of love to all. Charles."

Mrs. Peterson states that she has had many calls from persons saying that they had heard the broadcast, and that she also received a telegram from Charles Wednesday saying:

"I am well and doing fine. Have written many times but got no answer."

Sergeant Peterson of the U. S. Army has been a prisoner of the Japs since they took the Philippines early in 1942. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson have another son, Corp. Jack Peterson, who after service overseas, has now been back in the States for about three months.

IN THE SERVICE

Richard Shaw, Ph M 2/c attached to the U. S. Naval Air Station at Whidby Island, near Bremerton, Wash., was home four days last week for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shaw of 4483 Point Loma Ave. The remainder of his leave he is spending with his wife at Seattle, where she is a student at the University of Washington.

Mrs. Margaret Duncan, who with her five-months-old boy, lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Heret of 4804 Del Mar Ave., has received word from her husband, Robert Butler Duncan, stating that on April 20 he was promoted to first lieutenant in the U. S. Army. He was on duty with the U. S. Army that was the first to cross the Rhine on the Western front. Lieut. Duncan is a former resident of Ocean Beach and attended State College and Stanford University before going into the service. He has been overseas for about a year. Mr. and Mrs. Heret have a son who is a navigator on a B-29 on duty in the West Pacific.

Air Transport Command Base, India—2nd Lt. William B. Steel, co-pilot, of 1679 Cable St., Ocean Beach, has been awarded an Air Medal, announces Brig. Gen. William H. Turner, commanding general of the India China Division, Air Transport Command. The award was made upon completion of 150 hours of operational flight in transport aircraft over the dangerous and difficult India-China air routes, where enemy interception and attack was probable and expected. The air route through the towering peaks of the Himalaya mountains, blazed by the Air Transport Command, is recognized by airmen as the world's toughest. Today the "Hump" route is the main life-stream of vital military supplies for the Allied forces fighting the Japanese in China. The citation accompanying the award adds:

"Flying at night as well as by day, at high altitudes over impassable, mountainous terrain through areas characterized by extremely treacherous weather conditions necessitating long periods of operation on instruments... requiring courageous and superior performance of his duties to overcome, he accomplished his mission with distinction." The award was made for the period of service August 18 to November 26, 1944.

Committees Report On Activities at May 8 Meeting

Getting down to brass tacks on a number of community items, Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce heard reports from various working committees, given at the May meeting, held Tuesday evening at the Woman's clubhouse.

Regarding the proposed service men's honor roll memorial for Ocean Beach, a motion passed that the committee be authorized to obtain the sentiment of the Ocean Beach people and particularly of those who have contributed the $800 now in the fund. Reports on the matter were given by Co-Chairman Milt Lancaster and Forest Whedon and also by Frank McElwee, the latter the chairman of the joint Chamber of Commerce-Kiwanis committee.

The last named two had visited other communities which already have established soldier memorials of one kind or another. Whedon reported on the history of the campaign to date and suggested that since material for a permanent honor roll is now difficult to obtain that the matter be placed before those who had contributed to the fund in order to determine their wishes in the matter. The committee indicated that they would prepare a questionnaire to submit to the donors in order to get a better line on what the contributors prefer should be done. Suggestion also was made that the servicemen themselves should be consulted on what their wishes are in the matter.

Chairman Al Hunt of the publicity committee reported his committee deemed it best to cooperate with the San Diego Chamber of Commerce in the distribution of publicity material that the latter organization already has available, sending copies of such material to inquirers for more information about Ocean Beach. He also recommended that stock letters be prepared for use of the secretary. Other publicity recommended was in the matter of erection of signs that would direct strangers coming out here from town on how best to get to the Ocean Beach business and residential district. Report of the committee was approved on motion of the membership.

President J. R. Lownes reported on cases of juvenile delinquency in this community, following which considerable discussion was heard. The sentiment was expressed that the Ocean Beach police are at work on the problem and should be commended for the steps they are taking to remedy the situation.

Says Tropical Ills Not Likely To Spread Here

Control of Contagious Disease Told By Kiwanis Speaker

Ocean Beach Kiwanis club has completed four months in succession with the high record of 100 percent attendance Chairman W. B. Oster of the attendance committee, announced at the meeting Tuesday evening. He also was program chairman for the evening, and a program in observance of Health Education week was put on.

In the role of speaker was Dr. Gerald A. Heildreder of San Diego, who is connected with the Public Health Service. He spoke on the control of communicable diseases, with emphasis on rheumatic fever and its effect on the heart. Illustrating his subject, he showed three films, the three being on heart disease, tuberculosis and malaria.

Replying to the rather frequent question being asked as to the possible transmission of tropical diseases brought home by servicemen serving in the Pacific Islands the speaker stated that "to a large extent tropical diseases require tropical insect transmitters and since such insects are not a pest in this country the problem should not prove a serious one."

In controlling communicable diseases the six factors must be kept in mind. He said they were the following musts:

1. Must be a causative agent.
2. A reservoir of the particular causative agent.
3. A mode of escape from the reservoir.
4. A method of transmission.
5. A mode of entry into the human body.
6. A susceptible host.

Control can be achieved, he said, by attack on any one or on all of these factors.

Vice President Bob Fuller of the La Mesa Kiwanis club was a guest at the meeting.

GEO. MCKEON DEDICATES NEW SONG TO CHAIRMAN OF BENEFIT CONCERT

George McKeon, song writer of Ocean Beach, last week wrote, sang and dedicated a new song to Mrs. Jennie Siner, chairman for a benefit concert held in the Temple Beeth Israel center at 3rd Ave. and Laurel St., Thursday evening, May 3. The concert was held for the benefit of the Los Angeles tubercular sanitarium at Duarte, Calif. Funds being raised are for a new hospital for tubercular patients, to be known as the Franklin Delano Roosevelt hospital.

McKeon sang the song he had composed especially for the occasion, entitled "When You Share," and was encored several times.

MARC STRAUSS ERECTS NEW SIGN ON NEWPORT

Marc Strauss, proprietor of Marc's Sportswear, was appropriately boasting Tuesday about a new signboard he had constructed on a vacant lot near the Newport Hotel, and which faces on Newport Ave. The sign calls attention to his Sportswear store on Newport Ave. and was completed last week.

Realistic Beachhead Assault Will Be Staged Sunday

"On to Japan with San Diego's Own Amphibs!" is the slogan keynoting the San Diego area's participation in the "Mighty Seventh" war loan campaign, which opens Monday.

Accentuating this slogan, and giving a vivid demonstration of the vital role which the amphibious forces are playing in driving the Japs out of the Pacific, a realistic beachhead assault will be staged on the north shore of San Diego harbor Sunday afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock.

Taking part in this spectacular operation will be elements of the amphibious forces, based at Coronado; marines from Camp Pendleton and swarms of planes.

By direction of Rear Adm. George H. Fort, commander of the training command, amphibious forces, Pacific Fleet, the assault group will include troop transports, landing ships, landing craft and small boats from which a battalion of marines, many of whom have seen action against the Japs, will effect a landing with plenty of sound effects. The men will be equipped with carbines, M1 rifles, machine guns, mortars, bazookas, flame-throwers and demolition kits.

Three large sections of the beach will be roped off for spectators, who will have the equivalent of ring-side seats for the unprecedented spectacle.

The San Diego area's quota in the seventh war loan is $40,000,000, of which individuals are asked to invest $16,000,000 in Series E bonds, and $8,000,000 in all other types of bonds. The remaining $16,000,000 has been apportioned to the corporation group.

Girls League To Hold Student Day At High School

Thursday was designated as Girls' Day at Point Loma high schools. The Girls' League had planned a big get-together on the lawn from 3 to 6 o'clock. Special entertainment was on the program, with laughs and fun for everybody. All girls were permitted to wear print dresses. Every girl brought a box lunch of refreshments to wind up the day.

Plan Student Teaching In connection with the Girls' League activities, the project of a "Student Day" is being inaugurated for the furtherance of interesting students in considering the teaching profession. Senior girls will plan and conduct classroom work for the day while the teachers remain in the background and observe. If this idea proves effective it is hoped it will be continued for next year and extended to under-classesmen. Peggy Crawford, social chairman of the Girls' League, is in charge of arrangements for this day, which will be May 11. Many teachers are co-operating wherever it seems feasible.

Observes V-E Day Point Loma high school held an assembly on the wide front lawn of the school with presentation of the colors by the student ROTC, an address by the Rev. S. Dean McBride, pastor of Point Loma Community church, student speeches and songs by the choir, the program being in observance of V-E Day.

Dotty Shepherd Honored To Dorothy Shepherd, senior A vice president, went the honor of being the outstanding personality of the week in the "Teen Talk" column of a San Diego Sunday newspaper. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Shepherd of 4950 Narragansett Ave., Dorothy recently was voted the most popular girl in her class and the one with the best personality. She was the first president of the Xzephias, was queen of the Associated Student Body, for two years was a song leader and is now commissioner of girls activities. She also is a member of the choir of Point Loma Methodist church. After her graduation in June she plans to attend State College, and will study to be a physical education teacher.

PROFOUND GRATITUDE

The momentous unconditional surrender of Germany, May 7, and the resulting joyous feeling of relief that half the burden of war had been lifted from the shoulders of the world, did not cause a great emotional display of outward rejoicing, rather woven through the pattern of our happiness, was the remembrance of the stilled thousands who will not come home to fill the empty chairs, and our joy has been tempered with the thought of sorrowing loved ones of these heroes, as we try in some measure to share their loss—let us stay humbly grateful to these, who made the supreme sacrifice.

A FATHER TO HIS SON

I wish I had the power to write The thoughts wedged in my heart tonight,
As I sit watching that small star,
And wondering how and where you are.
You know Son, it's a funny thing,
How close a war can bring a family,
Which for years with pride,
Has kept emotion deep inside.
I'm sorry that when you were small,
I let reserve build up that wall;
I told you that real men never cried,
And it was Mom who always dried
Your tears and smoothed the hurt away,

So that you soon went back to play.
But Son, deep down within my heart,
I longed to have some little part,
In drying that small tear-stained face,
But we were men, men don't embrace.

Now suddenly I found my son,
A full grown man, with childhood gone.
Tonight, you're far across the sea,

Waging war for men like me,
Well somehow pride, and what is right,

Just don't seem to go tonight
I find my eyes won't stay quite dry,

That sometimes men do cry,
And if we stood face to face,
We'd find men do embrace.

Son, Dads are a funny lot,
And if I've failed you in some spot,

It's not because I loved you less,
It's just this cursed manliness.
But if I had the power to write,
The thoughts wedged in my heart tonight,
The words would ring out loud and true,
"I'm proud, so proud of you!"

The above poetical letter was written by Sgt. Ora Lee Smith, California State Guard, Co. E, 30th Reg., to his son, Charles Lee (Shorty) Smith, "somewhere" in the Western Pacific, with the 147th Infantry. Smith, who is acting corporal at present, wrote his parents, who live at 4532 Long Branch Ave., that he had been cited for a medal, "for services above and beyond the call of duty." The letter had been sent on to the boy's grandfather in the East, so it is not known exactly what medal he was to receive.

This war isn't over yet!

Now that the war is over for Germany, many in this country may feel that it is also over for us... that we can now let down, and relax.

Nothing could please Japan more. Nothing would hew so closely to her propaganda line.

We westerners understand this danger perhaps more than others. We may remember Pearl Harbor more clearly. And Bataan, Guadalcanal, Tarawa...

With the war over in Europe, the West will now become the great "marshalling yards" for the final Big Push against Japan. An enormous tide of troops and war materials undoubtedly will pour through to our seaports. Western railroads, housing, food supplies and shipping will be strained with the full weight of the nation's fighting effort.

We say this because—as far as the western railroad are concerned—many civilians may expect victory. Europe to mean better transportation service here. Actually, it may mean less room for civilians on the trains.

When the full tide of war traffic comes, we shall call on every resource to handle it. We shall run the war trains through.

First things come first until this war is over—and it isn't over yet.

Red Cross Cites Plans For Home Nursing Classes

The "Home Nursing" committee, San Diego Chapter, American Red Cross, announces the continuation of plans for more "Home Nursing" classes throughout the spring and summer. The committee urges that it is a duty and yet a privilege to attend one of these Red Cross classes, for which there is no charge.

With the serious need for registered nurses to serve where they are needed most, it is clear to us at home that we should avail ourselves of the splendid opportunity offered by the Red Cross to teach us the fundamentals of simple bedside nursing care.

No outside volunteer duties are required and the course runs approximately 30 hours. Classes meet twice a week in two hour sessions and are offered in the morning, afternoon and evening. It is necessary to enroll about 20 persons in a class and a registered nurse, authorized by the Red Cross, is the instructor.

Here's How You Can Help

1. Do call the doctor if you suspect a serious illness! A call in time will save many calls later. Take a Red Cross "Home Nursing" course, so you'll recognize common symptoms and learn what to do until the doctor arrives.
2. Help the doctor by learning how to keep sick room charts, how to make "sick beds" and other useful procedures. Report the patient's progress correctly by telephone and you'll save the doctor's time and your own.
3. Don't call the doctor every time your child gets a slight cold or looks pale. Watch for symptoms and take care of simple illnesses at home.

Sacramento—Allocation of $1,015,830.73 to California cities and counties as their share of alcoholic beverage license fees collected during the last half of 1944, was announced today by Wm. G. Bonelli, Fourth District member of the State Board of Equalization.

This represents one-half of the total fees of $2,031,661.46, of which the other half goes into the State General Fund where a substantial part of it is appropriated for the expenses of alcoholic beverage control.

basis of actual licenses issued, $39,199.73 will be distributed in San Diego county where $30,099.41 will go to San Diego, and $2,911.25 to the unincorporated area in the county.

Basing his opinion upon the provisions of the law under which the allocations are made, the state attorney general has advised the board that the funds thus distributed are to be used by the cities and counties in the enforcement of regulations pertaining to the sale and use of alcoholic beverages under a system of joint responsibility of state and local law enforcement officials.

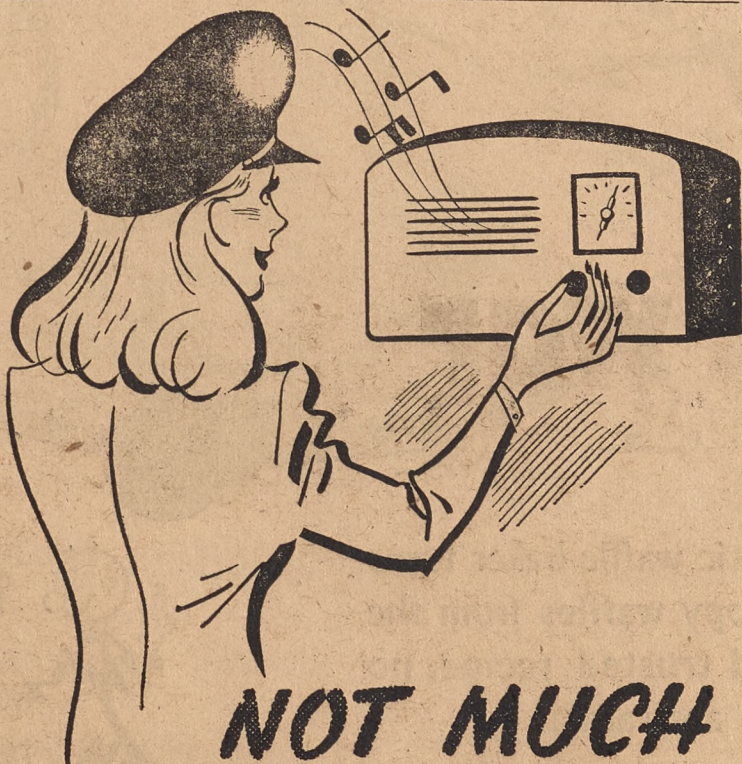

Rural Needs Met In Highway Bill

An amendment to Assembly Bill 1950, under which each county will receive a $60,000 biennial base allocation to be expended for postwar state highway improvements in rural areas, has been introduced by the authors of the bill, Assemblymen Fred H. Kraft, Chas. Stream and Kathryn Niehouse.

The amendment modifies the allocation formula as originally written in the bill, and further recognizes the needs of the rural counties with respect to future state highway construction and improvements. After the basic biennial allocation of $60,000 has been made by the State Highway Commission, the balance of the limited access highway funds are to be expended in the proportion that the motor vehicle registration in each county bears to the total state motor vehicle registration.

The pending legislation, sponsored by five statewide organizations, provides for future construction of approximately 2700 miles of limited access roads in the rural areas of California, and 600 miles of urban freeways in the seven metropolitan centers. Supporting organizations concur with the authors in recognizing needs of the rural counties, as is provided in the amendment. These organizations include the Automobile Club of Southern California, the California State Automobile association, the California State Chamber of Commerce, the County Supervisors association of California, and the League of California Cities.

Jean Doyle Wins Senior Title In Ink Tournament

Jean Doyle, senior, again brought honors to Point Loma high school Saturday when she won the championship of the Ink tennis tournament played on the North Park Recreation center courts, in the senior girls division. She downed Jerry Jackson of San Diego High in three sets, the scores being 6-1, 4-6, and 6-3.

The victory was her second straight title in the Ink tournament and was close to being a repetition of the finals in the girls division last year, when Jean also won from Jerry Jackson. Jean also set a record of having played in the championship bracket of the Ink tournament for the sixth straight year.

Award of the Bob Carrothers memorial trophy for outstanding sportsmanship was made to Jean at the close of the play. She and George Gentry of La Jolla High, the winner of the junior boys title in the finals Saturday also were notified they would receive expense-paid trips to their respective national interscholastic tournaments the coming summer.

Jean also tied another tournament record since her Saturday victory was her fourth tournament championship, equalling the record of Margaret Cary and the late Bob Carrothers.

The Point Loma girl began her tennis career at the age of 10 and at the age of 12 was runner-up in her class in the Ink tournament. Her collection of tennis trophies now totals nearly 40 besides many medals and certificates. The various matches in which she has taken part has given her trips across the continent once and up and down the coast of California many times.

In other divisions of the tournament Saturday, Virginia Beardsley of Bishop's school of La Jolla defeated Ann Bissel of Woodrow Wilson Jr. high school by scores of 6-3, 3-6 and 6-3; and Ben Cendali of San Diego High won the finals in the senior high school boys division by scores of 6-1 and 6-3, defeating Franklin Held of Grossmont. Gentry had won the junior high school title from Ulad Marsh of La Jolla, 6-1 and 6-3.

HASTENING DEFEAT OF JAPS—

"V-E" Day in Ocean Beach was surprisingly quiet. Generally, the tendency here was for sober thought rather than celebration in view of the apparent hard task ahead of us in defeating Japan. Nothing short of unconditional surrender by Horobito and his gang will satisfy Americans, which in view of the suicidal-fanatical attitude of the Japs simply means a long drawn-out struggle if the Yanks are to go it alone.

There is just one way to end it by 1946 and that is for all the nations that have declared war on Germany to join with Uncle Sam with both men and materials wholeheartedly, just like the Yanks have done to end the war in Europe.

Senator Capehart of Indiana hit the nail on the head the other day in the senate when he said, "The United States and a few other nations should no longer be expected to carry the full burden against Japan."

"Right now, in San Francisco, the 46 United Nations are planning to join together to suppress any aggressor nation. What a wonderful thing it would be if these 46 nations now would issue an ultimatum to Japan that unless it surrenders unconditionally within a certain period of time, all these 46 nations would agree to declare war on Japan and each help to furnish men and materials. If all are equally sincere in their hate of tyranny and equally passionate in their love of freedom let them demonstrate it now."

Really, now is their wonderful chance to show in a concrete way that they mean business and that they mean what they say in their deliberations at San Francisco.

WAR BONDS—PEACE BONDS—

With the Seventh War Loan drive scheduled to begin officially on May 14, there is little that can be said which has not been said before as to the reasons why every American should buy War Bonds to the limit of his financial capacity.

A recent editorial in the Brentwood News expressed a logical and refreshing approach on the subject of buying War Bonds. It declared, "... by buying Bonds to the limit of our resources at this time, we may be also ensuring a stable period of postwar adjustment. If we shirk our responsibility to buy War Bonds, the war effort will not break down; other methods, less agreeable methods, will be applied to finance the war. On the other hand, if we dissipate the money which could go to purchase of Bonds in wasteful spending, we are asking for trouble later on, not only for ourselves but for the men who are fighting for us."

"The picture," concludes the News, "of buying Bonds to supply your boy with a gun and with ammunition to shoot at the enemy is a colorful one, but it is somewhat puerile in contrast to the picture of making ready to bring our fighting men back to a land where conditions are healthy, and to opportunities to get back into civilian life which offers them self-respect and a solid and acceptable prosperity."

So the Bonds we buy are Peace Bonds as well as War Bonds. They help win the peace as well as the war. Let us invest in prosperous peace both for our servicemen and ourselves.

MOTHERS DAY—IN WARTIME—

If there is one time in the course of human affairs when mothers carry far more than their share of the world's burdens, that is in wartime.

The raging battle between nations is measured, in a mother's deepest heart, as soldier son against soldier son, for no war is truly glorious to the woman whose boy is facing the enemy. She goes about her humble tasks as all of us must in war or peace, but she carries that extra burden of anxiety peculiar alone to mothers whose children are in danger.

While the long war in Europe has ended only to burst anew along a dozen Pacific fronts, millions of mothers will kneel in prayer, and their prayers will be the same. They will pray as mothers have for centuries past, that their sons and daughters may live to know a happier world, a world that has learned to keep the peace and cherish it.

On this Mothers Day, let us be thankful, with the mothers of small boys with large and hopeful eyes, that their sons are not old enough to bear a heavy role in this war. Let us be hopeful with those mothers whose sons and daughters are in the war theatres, that the fighting will end with a good and lasting peace, bringing their loved ones safely home.

And with those courageous mothers who have given their sons in battle for a better world, let us hope fervently that their great loss has not been in vain. Let us honor those mothers reverently, for it is their lost sons who stand between a peaceful better world and the forces of greed and might which would exact the same great sacrifice of every mother in the land.

Four Billions
In E Bonds Goal
In 7th War Loan

WASHINGTON, D. C.—"In the Seventh War Loan your government is asking for the largest sum in investments by individuals in the history of America. Of the $7,000,000,000 individual goal, $4,000,000,000 is to be in E Bonds," Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. recently said in announcing the Advance Payroll Savings drive. The Secretary further stated:

"To meet this unprecedented but vitally necessary E Bond quota, the American worker, through the payroll savings plan, is being called upon for increased allotments and extra cash War Bond purchases to a greater extent than in any previous drive."

"War is the grimmest and greatest of human endurance tests. The side that wins, in the final analysis, is the side that is in there working and fighting at the end—the side with the stamina and the spirit to endure the long and terrible ordeal."

"The present war imposes its test no less upon civilians than upon the men in the armed services. Victory goes inevitably to the side whose men and women, in and out of uniform, stick longest and most unwaveringly to the performance of their jobs."

"There has been a fundamental change in the nature of the war. There is no limited objective now. The objective is total victory. The nearer we drive toward the enemy's heart, the costlier the war becomes. As we begin to go all out against the Japanese, so will our costs increase due to greater distances."

"I know that Americans need no appeal to meet the demands of the Seventh War Loan. The way for each of us here at home to meet these demands is through increasing War Bond purchases, unceasing devotion to his duty and his job and through a vivid knowledge that to win we must sacrifice."

"Our response to the Seventh War Loan will be the vindication to these men of their faith in us."

Sec. Morgenthau

Don't blame your waffle-baker for

WAFFLES

WHEN the electric waffle-baker turns out doughy, droopy waffles from the family's tried and trusted recipe, no wonder eyebrows are raised!

But don't blame the waffle-baker. Maybe it's not getting enough current. Chances are it's plugged into an octopus outlet (picture) and must compete with other appliances for a meager share of electricity. Too many appliances plugged into the same outlet result in blown fuses, dimmed lights or appliances that are slow to heat up. Inconvenient? Yes... and costly, too! When appliances fail to receive all the current they need, they must work "overtime"... and that means higher electric bills.

You can avoid this in the future by making sure that your post war home has more electrical outlets than you now think you will ever need. Remember, many of tomorrow's appliances are not even thought of today!... and you'll want most of these new appliances.

ALBERT N. DAUN PASSES AWAY MAY 3 IN HIS HOME

Services were held Monday at Bonham Brothers Mortuary for Albert N. Daun, 64, a resident of Ocean Beach for 22 years. The Rev. George Simpson officiated and cremation followed the services. Mr. Daun was born on the high seas near Great Britain, came here with his wife, Margaret, whom he married in Salt Lake City 27 years ago. Both Mr. and Mrs. Daun are members of the Theosophical Society of San Diego.

Before becoming a citizen in 1927, Mr. Daun spent nine years in the British army serving in the Boer war. He also spent some time in India and could speak several languages. He was employed at Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp. and had started to work Thursday morning when he became ill and returned home. Death came quickly the cause being coronary thrombosis. Tall, picturesque in appearance, with a thatch of snow white hair, he also possessed a strong sense of humor. His ready wit endeared him to all who knew him. He worked for many years as stationary engineer in the old Commonwealth Bldg. and later in what used to be the Athletic Club and the San Diego Army and Navy Academy, now known as Brown's Military Academy.

After almost 22 years residence at 4647 Larkspur Ave. the Daun family had recently purchased the home at 4661 Brighton where they now reside, and where a family reunion was held April 30 when the two sons in service were home on furlough. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Margaret Daun; a daughter, Mrs. H. D. Saville, and two granddaughters, Judith and Zola, all of Ocean Beach; and two sons, Kimball M. Daun of the U. S. Maritime service and Alan M. Daun, a flight officer of the Army Air Corps at Hondo, Texas.

Catholic Altar Society Up Third In Membership

Meeting of the Sacred Heart Altar Society of Ocean Beach, held Monday evening, May 7 at 7:30 in the church hall, ended the membership drive, with the chairman reporting a third increase in membership. The society had been divided into two committees for this purpose. Now the losing committee, with Mrs. Wm. Collins as chairman, is scheduled to entertain the winners under Mrs. J. A. Loughesy.

The committee for the National Clothing drive reported that 1,165 pounds of clothing had been boxed and sent in. Three boxes of other usables were sent to the Thrift shop.

It was agreed the society should serve supper at the 5th and Ash St. U. S. O. on June 3. The ladies also decided to give a Bingo party Friday evening, May 18 at 8:15 in the church hall to which the public is cordially invited. Mrs. P. M. Burrows, Mrs. Wm. Madigan and Mrs. I. Hegerle were appointed chairmen of the party.

The program included an inspiring paper on "The Life of The Blessed Virgin Mary" presented by Mrs. Katherine Isaacson after which Father Edward Hannon gave a very interesting history of the Sacred Heart parish from its beginning in 1911 to the present.

Members of the choir, Mrs. George Finley, Mrs. George Turskey, Mrs. Don Jones and Mrs. George Gordon, accompanied by Mrs. S. Maben, sang hymns in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Refreshments were enjoyed at tables gaily decorated with flowers and candles. The honored guests were five members whose birthday fell in the month of May.
